16-year-old Boy Held in Slaying of Pacifican

By DON GRIERSON

A 16-year-old Stockton boy who shotgunned his father to death December 2 has been arrested and charged with the brutal murder of a Pacifica man nearly a year ago.

Through a bizarre chain of events which culminated with the arrest of Robert Carroll Reeves at his father's funeral, Pacifica police say they have solved the mysterious killing of Theodore Young, 32, last January.

Inspectors Al Tebaldi and Paul Averiett said the youth and his father, Carroll Reeves, 41, who lived across the street from Young's shaded Pedro Point bungalow, tied the young bachelor's hands behind his back and stabbed him 42 times on the night of January 11.

Young Reeves and his father left Pacifica the day after the killing, and Coastside authorities have been attempting to locate them ever since.

The first and only break in the case came December 2 when the youth killed his father during the course of a family argument, Tebaldi said.

Stockton police, queried during initial attempts to locate the pair in January, noted the request there, and telephoned Tebaldi after questioning the youth.

Pacifica inspectors traveled to Stockton to question the youth last Tuesday returning "with additional physical evidence" (presumably fingerprints from the murder house in Pacifica) and arrested young Reeves as he left his father's funeral.

The Reeves lived in Pacifica about one month, according to Tebaldi, and the house they rented there was directly across the street from Young's home at 1493 Grand Avenue.

After Young was murdered, neighbors told police the youth had worked on the victim's automobile a few days before the killing.

When officers went to question the youth, who was then 15, his mother told them he and the father had left town to seek work. Mrs. Reeves moved to Stockton a few days later.

Young, a window display artist, had moved to Pacifica from the Monterey area just two weeks before his death. He lived alone in the expensively furnished Pedro Point house.

Tebaldi said the killing grew out of "a conflict between the youth and the victim," and young Reeves apparently enlisted the aid of his father in binding Young with appliance cords and beating and stabbing him to death.

Tebaldi declined to reveal a specific motive in the killing, and said the murder charge was brought against the boy "on the basis of physical evidence."

Stockton officials released the boy after questioning in the fatal shooting of his father, and brought no charges in connection with the killing.

The elder Reeves had reportedly been drinking heavily prior to his death December 2, and the youth shot him in self-defense while protecting his mother.

The youth took the shotgun from a closet after his father struck his mother several times, authorities said.

The father then reportedly threatened to take the gun and kill both the youth and Mrs. Reeves.

The elder Reeves had a four-page "rap sheet" listing convictions ranging from child molesting to aggravated assault, and had served several jail and prison terms, Pacifica police said.

He and the youth had "drifted around the country" after the Pacifica killing, traveling as far as Florida, and returned to Stockton about one month ago.

A detention hearing for Reeves was scheduled Tuesday at Hillcrest.

The youth will be tried under juvenile court procedure, according to Tebaldi, since he was only 15 at the time of the killing.

Had he been 16, the case might have been heard in Superior Court.

CITIZENS' PLANNING COMMITTEE REPORT

Transportation In Daly City

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Chairman J. Jay Flynn's five-member subcommittee on Traffic and Transportation problems confronting Daly City reached as far away as Toronto, Canada, for answers in a recent report to the city council.

The subject of the BARTD station to be built in the city occupied much of the subcommittee's time, inasmuch as it was expected to generate a considerable amount of traffic and development problems in the neighboring areas of the city.

"Since we are neophytes as far as subways and rapid transit is concerned, we (the subcommittee) have checked with the Toronto, Canada Transit Commission," Flynn reported in discussing the proposed Bay Area Rapid Transit District's terminus station in Daly City.

The subcommittee was formed, as were six similar subcommittees, to come up with ideas and "thoughts" on various projects they would like to see included in the General Plan now being drawn up by the professional planning consultant firm of Livingston & Blayney.

In most cases the committees did not make specific recommendations because "that isn't the intent of these appointed members," Planner Edward Lawson explained. "They are supposed to offer their ideas . . . things they would like to see included in the over-all plan."

Flynn's committee, for example, advised the city to insist on a subway type BARTD station in the Knowles Avenue area, with parking for a minimum 1,000 cars. Present BARTD plans call for approximately 950 parking spaces. Further, the type of station to be constructed has not, as yet, been agreed upon.

According to Flynn, the Toronto station has some 1,400 parking spaces for their terminus station which services 125,000 persons.

In order to relieve expected congestion around the new station, it was suggested that long feeder lanes be built that would take the vehicles off the street some distance prior to actually entering the parking area. This would prevent "backing up" of cars on the main feeder streets to the terminal.

Similar holding lanes were constructed at the Fifth and Mission Street Garage and Union Square Garage in San Francisco and adequately provide for this peak traffic back up, the report pointed out.

Parking should be prohibited on adjacent city streets during the daytime.

Off-street parking should also be included in future building plans for the surrounding areas, with the formula for such facilities to be developed by the Planning Commission and costs for such development paid for by individual builders.

Improvement of both Los Banos and Knowles streets must be made to meet the expected traffic generated by the BARTD station.

A "feeder system" must be instituted to tie in with the station to all key points within the city.

The subcommittee unanimously agreed the present bus system in Daly City "is highly inadequate."

"This conclusion is based upon scheduling . . . equipment and personnel. It was unanimously agreed that a change is needed and a much improved system must be found prior to the opening of the station," the report explained.

The city was asked to "extend itself to the fullest" in order to get an adequate bus system started "even to the point of subsidization."

Committee members Ralph C. Hall, Melvin Taylor, Harry R. Underhill and Tony Zidich were likewise unanimous in agreeing positive steps on the subject of improving the system must be made immediately.

Unloading zones for bus passengers at the station must utilize separate areas to relieve that portion of traffic congestion.

A direct bus line to the Cow Palace and Candlestick Park, possibly by the Guadalupe Canyon Parkway, was also suggested upon completion of the BARTD station.

The subcommittee could not visualize additional rapid transit stations for the city, but stated that should the West Bay Rapid Transit line become a realty "it would seem obvious that said

Bruno Blasts Location Of Court in D.C.

San Bruno officials are going down fighting in their opposition to the establishment of a full-time branch of the Municipal Court in Daly City.

City Manager Gerard S. Vergeer has sent a letter to Chairman Jean Fassler of the County Board of Supervisors stating that the city council is "officially opposed to the establishment of any court in Daly City."

The letter, which was to come before the board for discussion Tuesday, states that the council agrees "wholeheartedly" with the findings of the Judicial Council of California that branch should not be located in Daly City.

The state agency said the court is not needed in Daly City and only represents a "status symbol."

"It is the opinion of the city council," Vergeer's letter states, "That this court should be part of the northern judicial complex now existing in South San Francisco. We believe this will be the most economical site as well as giving adequate service to the Northern Judicial District."

The county's plan is to move one of the three Municipal Court branches from South San Francisco to Daly City and to put a full-time Superior Court department in the vacated courtroom. Superior Judge Frank E. Blum is scheduled to be transferred from Redwood City for that purpose.

Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett refused to comment on the "status symbol" label tacked onto the establishment of a courthouse in his city saying only "the idea was first brought up by the County Board of Supervisors some time ago."

Lycett said the subject of the court was discussed by the council and supervisors along with other county services for the city and added "I feel the court along with these other services will better serve the people of the area."

FRANK BLUM

Judge Blum Assigned To S.S.F. Court

Superior Judge Frank B. Blum of Daly City is scheduled to take over the full-time branch court in South San Francisco when it is established.

Judge Frank W. Rose will be presiding judge for 1968. Judge W. Howard Hartley will preside over the juvenile court. Judge Melvin E. Cohn is scheduled to handle the criminal court and will preside over the 1968 County Grand Jury.

One of the remaining judges will be assigned to the domestic relations court and will also hold court in South San Francisco on Fridays until the full-time department is established.

Two additional judges are scheduled to be appointed soon by Governor Reagan. A month ago a spokesman for Reagan said the appointments would be made within 10 days.

As soon as remodeling is completed in the old city hall in Daly City to permit the transfer of a Municipal Court branch from South San Francisco and Judge Blum will move into the vacated court in South San Francisco and one of the new appointees will take over Judge Blum's courtroom in Redwood City.

PACIFICA TOWN HALL

Drug Experimenting By Teeners Rapped

"Nobody should be placed in jail for mere possession of drugs for his own use," Dr. Fred Meyer, U.C. Medical Center pharmacologist, said Saturday at the Second Annual Pacifica Town Hall Meeting on Drugs. At the same meeting, he urged teen-agers not to experiment with drugs.

"Marijuana, as it is now available, poses no particular threat to society," he said, "and is a fairly benign drug when compared with other substances, such as whiskey, which are now in common use."

"That is not to say that pot is as good as whiskey, but only to say it is bad in the same way," Dr. Meyer stressed.

Marijuana and alcohol are remarkably similar in many respects, he said, and are used for similar reasons.

Another speaker Saturday, San Mateo County psychiatrist Dr. David Schwartz, told the 600 high school students and parents at the community meeting that many teen-agers use drugs "to achieve a sense of belonging to a group."

"The need to belong to a group is basic to human nature," Dr. Schwartz said. "Though the hippie drug-users are outsiders from society in general, they have their own peer group."

Dr. Schwartz said most of the problems between parents and children today can be traced to a breakdown in communications in the home.

"The one thing I would prescribe to remedy the problem is to bring love and trust back into the home," he said.

George Hinkle, assistant principal at Terra Nova High School, was chairman of the program Saturday.

Other speakers included Mayor Grace McCarthy, and members of the city council.

After the morning speaking program, participants in the meeting divided into discussion groups.

Saturday afternoon, a panel discussion was moderated by KRON-TV commentator Ed Hart.

Action On High-Rise Is Delayed

By DON GRIERSON

South San Francisco planning commissioners postponed action on a use permit request for a 10-story "high-rise" office building Monday after a group of homeowners entered protests against the planned structure.

Mrs. Walter E. Clayton, 747 Parkway, Mrs. Lucille Creamer, 529 Euclid, and Gilbert Stevens, Mayfair Avenue, told the commission the proposed Guy F. Atkinson "world-wide headquarters" building would spoil the view for 100 residents "and set an undesirable precedent in the city."

Faculty Gives Jeff Hi Boundary Views

By WILL E. THOMAS

With community-trustee appraisal, backgrounding and reaction to proposed plans for realigning Jefferson High School District boundaries and to obtain effective racial balance nearing a climax, Supt. Edward D. Morgan has been called upon to offer his suggestions.

Board of Trustees' chairman Raymond Milton Monday asked Morgan to submit his administration's recommendations on December 18.

Morgan has commented in the past several weeks that he has "my own opinions" on recommendations contained in the University of California Field Service Center report, filed with trustees in July. But, he hasn't given an inkling of what those opinions might be.

In the meantime, he and trustees alike —and citizens as well — have a new set of proposals to ponder.

Those came Monday night from a special Jefferson faculty committee, which drafted, after a host of teacher meetings, its own list of suggestions, possible alternatives and philosophies.

Michael A. Tugendreich, chairman of the district faculty committee, submitted the report with the comment that teachers unanimously rejected the recommendations listed as alternatives in the UC Report, prepared by Dr. Robert Stout.

Tugendreich noted that the recommendations submitted by the committee were approved "overwhelmingly" by teachers in all the Daly City-Pacifica high schools.

"They were the ones the teachers felt they could support, he explained.

A possibility advanced in the Stout report — the consideration of establishing the new Serramonte school for ninth-graders only (or one of the other existing schools instead) — was rejected, Tugendreich said.

Teacher recommendations:

—The retention of the schools as four-year facilities, "as the most practical and educationally sound solution."

—Establishment of a policy that at each of the high schools (except Thornton) the percentage of minority students will not exceed 30 per cent of the individual school population; no one minority group to exceed 11 per cent of the student population of each school.

—Changes to attain a desired ethnic balance should apply

Exterior Design Control Ordinance for Daly City

The Daly City council unanimously adopted an ordinance Monday which will give the city power to control exterior designs of certain buildings in the city.

Specifically, the law was passed to anable the City Planner to control buildings in the immediate area of the new Civic Center.

The Design Review District ordinance was first brought up last year and met mild opposition from landowners and certain developers who expressed concern that the new law would give the city too much power in determining exterior design factors of buildings — including color.

Coupled with the already adopted Commercial-Office (C-O) zoning ordinance, officials feel the area around the Civic Center will now be "protected" from buildings that would not "blend in with the Civic Center Complex," an official explained.

Jurors Open Police Quiz

Thirteen witnesses were called before the County Grand Jury Monday night to give evidence against suspended Brisbane Police Chief Lillard Dyer.

District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson said seven additional witnesses were scheduled to appear at a special jury session called for Wednesday night to complete the investigation.

Among those who testified Monday were members of the police department, Sorenson's own investigators, and citizens who paid for copies of accident reports at Brisbane police station. Dyer is accused of pocketing some of the cash that came in over the counter for that purpose.

Sorenson said he will ask the jury for both an indictment and an accusation. The indictment would allege embezzlement of public funds, and the accusation would start the legal machinery to remove Dyer from office permanently.

Strike Law Liberalization Resolution By D.C. Teachers

Members of the Jefferson California Teachers Association in Daly City, unhappy with the salary schedule approved last month by district trustees, have adopted a resolution urging liberalization of state laws pertaining to strikes by public employes.

CTA President Marilyn Harris said the purpose of the resolution is to encourage the state group to "lobby against teacher strike laws in the legislature."

Another resolution, which calls for limitations on the "disproportionate placement of first-year teachers in any one school," will also be carried to the state council.

This resolution recommends that the proportion of new teachers in any building faculty be limited to 20 per cent.

CTA members were displeased with the district salary arrangement approved last month "because it weights the pay scale at the bottom."

As finally approved by the board, the new salary schedule provides a five per cent pay increase for beginning teachers, and an increase of only 3.5 per cent for teachers at the top of the pay scale.

Supt. Frank Greenwood proposed the adopted formula, which gives first-year teachers a $290 "across-the-board" raise and teachers with more than three years experience $390, "to enable the district to remain competitive in recruiting new teachers."

The schedule destroys the two-to-one ratio between pay for beginning teachers and those at top scale, a formula which CTA officials consider optimum.

Miss Harris and JCTA Vice-President Denis O'Leary said they consider the salary schedule a "slap in the face for the district's career teachers."

Other new policies adopted by the JCTA members in recent meetings include a plan to explore means of "informing the public directly about problems within the district schools."

Among the means being considered for informing the public about teacher grievances are billboard and newspaper advertising, informational pickets at the schools, and "withholding certain extra-curricular services which are now provided by the district teachers."

"In a nutshell, we want the citizens of our district to realize that if they want top-level education for their children, they are going to have to pay for it," O'Leary said.

The JCTA salary committee has already completed its proposals for next year.

The proposals call for another five per cent increase for first-year teachers, and an increase for top scale teachers "sufficient to restore the two-to-one salary ratio."

In an effort to obtain an early settlement next year, the JCTA will recommend that teachers not sign new contracts for the 1968-69 term until salary negotiations have been completed.

Bruno Plans To Purchase Road Land

San Bruno councilmen Monday authorized City Manager Gerard Vergeer to negotiate a contract with the Avansino-Mortensen Co. for purchase of additional right-of-way for the Sneath Lane widening project.

Vergeer said he has reached agreement with the company, and a tentative price of $340,000 has been set on the three acres of land and $100,000 worth of improvements involved.

The city will also replace a fence along the edge of the property, and relocate a water tank and pumping system.

In other business Monday, the council authorized purchase of a new police radio console to be installed in department's expanded facilities.

Vergeer said the new equipment will cost approximately $3.000.

Vergeer was also authorized to dispose of two small parcels of land developed by installation of the Oak Avenue culvert through listing the property with real estate agents.

presented several residents of the Sign Hill area, said she and several of her neighbors paid "premium prices" for their homes because of their view "and because this city supposedly had a 65-foot height limitations on all buildings."

The planned "tower wing" addition to the construction firm's office facilities will rise 143 feet above Orange Avenue, and company officials have stated further high-rise additions are contemplated on their 26-acre site.

"If this entire site is developed in a similar manner, our homes will be faced with a solid wall blocking out the view," Mrs. Clayton said.

She also criticized the planning commission for failing to make plans for the building public until last week.

Mrs. Clayton and the other homeowners requested a continuance on the use permit hearing, and also requested that a scale model of the structure be provided and a study be done on the "environmental impact" of the building before the permit is approved.

"We would also like to know what will be built on the remainder of the 26-acre site," Mrs. Clayton said.

Stevens complained that the planned structure will conflict with the city's "low silhouette outline," and "will look ridiculous."

However, City Planner Daniel Pass, in recommending approval of the use permit, said the contrasting high-rise building "will enhance the area esthetically."

He pointed out there are other structures in the city higher than the 65-foot limit, such as a drive-in theater screen on Spruce Avenue, and taller buildings are allowable through use permit procedure and without a variance.

Thomas J. Henderson, general manager for Guy F. Atkinson's building and properties division, told the commission the $1.5 million high-rise building is "the only feasible design for our expansion here."

The plans presented Monday represented the seventh design considered by the firm's architects, Paul J. Gumbinger and Alfred Johnson, and City Planner Daniel Pass has "worked closely with our architects in arriving at this solution," Henderson said.

The firm has agreed to all recommendations of the city's public works, fire, police and planning departments in connection with the project.

However, Henderson said it would not be possible to concur with Recreational Supt. Robert Maxey's recommendation that the new wing be moved back 100 feet from the street.

Maxey and landscaping consultant John Hoffman objected to the building at last week's study session on grounds it will cast a shadow "over most of Orange Memorial Park," and will be a detriment to plant life in the park.

Henderson said the new addition must be compatible with the existing structure at the site, and it would be impossible to meet the recreation supervisor's request.

Rough Night For Police

Daly City police had an especially "rough" night Thursday.

The on-duty officers had the usual run of drunk bookings and domestic disputes.

It was their off-duty colleagues that experienced the most trouble.

Motorcycle officer Ed "Buzz" Beecher was fast asleep shortly after midnight when a loud crash awakened the neighborhood.

A car driven by Charles Hardcastle, 26, of 36 Rockford Avenue, Daly City, had lost its brakes coming down steep Belcrest Avenue, careened across the road as it went into the sharp curve at the bottom of the hill and smashed into Beecher's car — completely demolishing it.

Except for minor cuts and bruises, Hardcastle escaped injury in the spectacular crash.

Less than two hours later, at 2:10 a.m., a car driven by William Casey, 49, of 1106 Glenwood Drive, Millbrae, skidded out of control on South Mayfair, sideswiped a palm tree and crashed into the front of officer Dave Johnstone's house — unceremoniously awakening the whole family.

only to incoming new students, allowing a gradual change.

—A boundary change be made to effect these changes.

—Boundary changes for Oceana and Terra Nova, in Pacifica, be considered by the board when the situation warrants change.

The committee left to trustee decision the method that might be used to shift the boundaries or shuffle attendance makeup.

Four possibilities—regarded by the committee as merely potential methods and were not to be considered as teacher recommendations — were expressed:

1. Geographical boundaries.
2. Some form of alphabetical assignment for students who live beyond a set distance limit.
3. Checkerboard by areas.
4. Any possible combination of the above.

The committee also offered a list of 14 "educational recommendations."

It conveyed the committee's deep concern, "Any boundary change that does not include an educational program based on these minimal conditions and services is totally without merit."

The committee declared its belief that a "program of integration without quality education is impossible."

It also urged the district to seek funds for special educational projects from state, federal and Foundation sources.

system would join BARTD for a transfer point (at Knowles Avenue) if for no other reason than that of economics."

And because of Daly City's geographic location, in relation to the two systems, the city may become the recipient of the systems free of charge.

If WBARTD did extend the line into Daly City the committee recommended it be totally underground — similar to the BARTD line from San Francisco.

One thing the committee strongly protested was the construction of an elevated transit system within the city. The city, itself, has taken this stand for some time.

Daly City's present freeway congestion will be alleviated with the completion of the Junipero Serra Freeway south in the next few years, the committee felt.

It was further recommended that an addition to the present freeway system include and on and off ramp and freeway (or expressway) extending from the Guadalupe Canyon Parkway to the Bayshore Freeway, possibly with an interchange at the Old Bayshore Boulevard (where the parkway now ends).

Extension of South Hill Road in the Southern Hills area southerly to join the Guadalupe Parkway would also better serve the residents and business within the city.

This extension would also provide easy access to the area in cases of emergency.

Major traffic congestion in certain areas of the city, including Market Street - Mission Street - San Pedro Road intersection (presently under planning for improvements); the intersection of Southgate and Westmoor —Westmoor and Skyline; Alemany Extension and Poncetta-South Mayfair; San Jose and Mission streets, were discussed at great length by subcommittee members, along with other "problem" traffic areas in the growing city.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

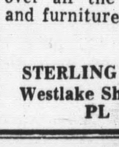
THE CONVERSATION PIECE



Have you ever walked through a beautifully decorated home and had the feeling that there was something missing, and you could not put your finger on what it was?

This certain something, very often referred to as a "conversation piece," when well selected and properly used, is very often the difference between the humdrum room and the room with sparkle, flair, verve.

In a formal room it could be an elegant crystal chandelier or an entire mirrored wall. A conversation piece may be anything that adds charm, contrast, beauty and daring to a room; but on the other hand it must not be completely over-powering.

Here is a list of suggestions — and the list could be endless — of some ways you can add life to an otherwise lifeless room:

Instead of the usual cocktail table use three octagonal snack tables in a triangular grouping.

Use one strikingly colorful and beautiful Oriental item in your room such as a lacquered inlaid teakwood screen, a carved chow table, a Japanese scroll or a lamp made from a Chinese vase.

An appropriate mural on the entire wall behind your sofa can add the necessary color, depth and character to your room.

For other ideas, please accept my invitation to come in and browse around in our store. You are under no obligation to buy anything, but we'd enjoy visiting with you; and you might enjoy looking over all the new furniture and furniture ideas we have.

CEREMONIES MARKING THE COMPLETION of the Southgate-Sullivan Avenue extensions were attended by 15 of the areas' community leaders and officials recently. The two streets are important arterials and are expected to greatly improve traffic flow in the area, according to city engineer Arthur Reschke. Assisting in the ribbon-cutting ceremonies were (left to right) engineer Reschke; Larry Hoban, Mary's Help Hospital; John Guilhamet, County Engineers Office; Daly City Mayor Bernard Lycett; William Morton, Crocker Land Company; D.C. Manager Edward Frank; Jerry Shane, president of the St. Francis Merchants; D.C. city treasurer, Joe Lewkowitz; Sister Louise and Sister Emily, of Mary's Help Hospital, D.C., City Clerk Anna Ohlandorf; D.C. Councilman Tony Giammona; Sherman Eubanks, Crocker Land Company; Don Monson, president of the D.C. Colma Chamber of Commerce; and Edward Schulhauser, Standard Building Company. (Post Photo)

Cities Split Over Minorities' Panel

City representatives were divided December on whether a county-wide human relations commission should be established or whether each city should have its own.

A hearing before a blue ribbon study committee in Redwood City produced these other developments:

—A scolding for South San Francisco officials because the city was not represented.

—A denial that a Negro ghetto exists in Daly City.

—A claim by several representatives that they have no civil rights problems in their communities.

—An expression of reluctance on the part of several cities to contribute financially to a county-wide commission, estimated to cost $130,000 a year.

The committee was appointed by the County Board of Supervisors to study and recommend whether a human relations commission should be established and, if so, what powers and duties it should have.

To sound out what support might be expected, the committee is conducting a series of hearings and is to report back to the county board by January 31.

Speaking out for a county-wide organization were Councilwoman Eve Sterry of Belmont, City Manager Charles Schwalm of Burlingame, Councilman Henry Anthony of East Palo Alto, Assistant City Manager David Rowe of Daly City, Mayor William Lawson of Menlo Park, Mayor Charles Yetter of Millbrae, Mayor Sidney Herkener of Redwood City and Vice Mayor E. J. Nackord of San Carlos.

Committee member Harry Bremond, Negro chairman of the Human Resources Commission which co-ordinates anti-poverty programs, asked Rowe if it were true that there has been a large influx of San Francisco Negroes into Daly City and that they are "congregating in one pocket." Rowe replied that about half of the city's Negroes live in the Mission Street area and that the remainder are spread throughout the city.

"You imply that we have a ghetto," Rowe told Bremond. "We definitely don't."

Minority housing is the only human relations problem in Daly City, Rowe declared.

Post Office Tells Holiday Hours in D.C.

The Daly City Post Office, girding its forces for the annual deluge of Christmas mail, has announced these special hours for the holiday mailing season:

Postmaster Vincent P. Murphy stated the schedule would include weekdays, Saturdays and Sundays until December 23. Monday through Friday, beginning December 11:

All Stations, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Saturday, December 9, All Stations, 8 a.m. to 12 Noon.

Saturday, December 16, All Stations — 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Saturday, December 23, All Stations — 8 a.m. to 12 Noon.

Sunday, December 10, All Stations closed.

Sunay, December 17, Main Office and Westlake Station will open from 1 to 4 p.m. All of the other stations closed.

Sunday Decmeber 24, All Stations closed.

In addition to listing the special hours for stations, Murphy also announced these special hints for Christmas mail users: Use ZIP Code numbers for speedy delivery (and return). Use five-cent stamps for Christmas cards to assure forwarding. Cards sent at the four-cent rate may not carry a personal message other than the usual signature. Be sure to package gifts in strong cartons, and include a card in the parcel, with the names, addresses of both the sender and addressee so that in the event of loss of the outside label, the article will be speeded to its destination instead of being delayed in a Dead Letter Office.

The use of the ZIP Code numbers in both the return address and address, will assure fast sure delivery.

S.S.F. Aids Westborough Development

South San Francisco councilmen released several parcels of land in Westborough from security agreements last week, clearing the way for continued development of the planned community.

Councilmen adopted resolutions releasing the 10-acre Westborough Square Shopping Center site, a park and fire station site, elementary school site, and Galway Place from the complex security arrangement with Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., developers of the subdivision.

Council action came after the developers cleared liens on the parcels, and satisfactorily completed grading and preparation of the park and fire station sites.

"The council's policy regarding the clearance of liens and encumbrances on the sites has been successfully carried out," Councilman Frank Bertucelli reported.

Fifty-Plus Club Will Play Santa to Vets

The Fifty-Plus Club of Pacifica will play Santa Claus for the 84 World War I veterans who live in Ward 16-North at the Veteran's Administration Hospital, Menlo Park, December 16.

This will be the Club's sixth annual party for these men. A chartered bus will leave Pacifica's City Hall at noon to take Club members and friends to the affair, according to Edna Laurel Calhan, club president.

Pacifica's American Legion Post 238, headed by Commander Glen Berg and Thomas J. Wisby, again will assist the club.

Fifty-Plus chaplain, the Rev. Herschel D. Harkins, and his wife, Bessie, also will aid in presenting the Christmas program.

The Pacifica Choraliers, sponsored by the club, will sing Christmas carols, as well as several featured numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Alexander.

Santa Claus will distribute individual presents to each veteran.

The gifts will include a sport or dress shirt for each man.

Club members also are baking cupcakes and cookies and making candy.

Bus fare for the round trip, which will return to Pacifica at 3 p.m., is $1.50.

Funds for the party are raised at the club's veterans benefit luncheon and program each September

ANNUAL BOY SCOUT FUND DRIVE was kicked off this week by Daly City Councilman Tony Giammona (seated center) with business leaders from the community pledging their support during the campaign. The funds collected during the drive are used by the Serra Division of the BSA to send scouts to summer camps and are primarily solicited from local businesses. The drive got under way December 1 and volunteers will be calling on merchants for contributions for the next two weeks. Helping Giammona map out the drive are (left to right) Skip Harris, Martin Strauss, Mike Orlich and Judge Paul Hupf. (Post Photo)

Sorority's Yule Party Thursday

The December 14, meeting of Delta Phi Upsilon, national honorary sorority for early childhood education, will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Rosemary McCaskie, 1789 Juniper Avenue, San Bruno.

The Christmas party will include a brief meeting, to be followed by games planned by Mrs. McCaskie and co-hostess, Mrs. Mable Clayton, and a $1 gift exchange.

Active YWCA Thursday In Daly City

Thursday will find YWCA members engaged in a variety of activities.

The YW-Wives club and the Y Bridge club will join for a Christmas pot-luck luncheon and gift exchange following their 10 a.m. meeting at the Westlake Baptist Church.

Mrs. Clarence Adams, YW-Wives president, said, "The YW-Wives annual Christmas project to aid a needy family was enlarged to include two families this year."

The club members assembled an array of toys, clothing and food, festively wrapped for delivery on the appropriate date.

Lunch time will also find YWCA members modeling fashions by H. Liebes at Joe's of Westlake.

The models will be Mrs. Alfred McGuirk, Mrs. Michael Weiss, Mrs. Edwin Plato and Mrs. Robert Washford.

Eta Gamma Party

December 19 is the date chosen by Eta Gamma chapter for its Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Jack Ramos, 3500 Longview Drive, San Bruno. Secret Sisters will be revealed by gift exchanges at the event which will begin at 8:15 p.m. The social committee will serve as hostesses.

The chapter recently celebrated its twenty-first anniversary with a party at the home of Mrs. William Gardner in San Bruno. Mrs. James Bailey has accepted the assignment of council representative to replace Mrs. Glen Gartelman

CARD PARTY LUNCHEON

The Sisterhood of Temple Judea, on Brotherhood Way, will hold a card party luncheon January 16 at 11:30 a.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Couple Recites Vows in Colma

Diana Lee Hajjar and Kenneth Eugene Magoon recited their marriage vows in a recent ceremony in Colma. The Rev. Ernest R. Tuft officiated.

Diana, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris Hajjar, wore a white lace sheath and carried white carnations. She was attended by her cousin, Linda M. Haran who wore a yellow shift and carried yellow carnations.

James Garadis Jr., served as best man for Kenneth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Magoon.

After a wedding trip through Mendocino County, the couple will live in San Francisco where both are attending San Francisco State College. The benedict is working for his master's degree in sociology. Diana graduated from Vallejo High School, and her husband graduated from Westmoor High School.

Among the guests were Mrs. Michael Hajjar of San Francisco, grandmother of the bride, and Frank P. Fox, grandfather of the bride.

College Alumni Elects Staff

The Northern California Plembroke College Club, alumnae of Pembroke College, coordinate Woman's college in Brown University at Providence, R.I., held its Christmas auction this year at the home o fMrs. Marshall Staunton at Atherton.

Guests included alumnae from both sides of the bay.

Mrs. Charles Coppock attended from Daly City.

Officers for the 1968-69 year will be: Mrs. Paul Lucey, formerly of Daly City, president; Mrs. Sidney Kass, recording secretary; Mrs. William Arnold, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Herschel Herzberg, treasurer.

Jeff Elementary Sets Its Christmas Menu

Youngsters who attend classes in Jefferson Elementary District shools where hot lunches are served will have at least two "Christmas dinners" this year.

The first will be at school Thursday, the second, of course, will be at home on Christmas day.

The chefs in the school district's cafeterias will not have an opportunity to whip up the usual Christmas fare any later than this week, since classes will be dismissed December 18 for the Christmas-New Year vacation period.

Thus, the students will get a special Christmas lunch Thursday, with an entree of "Christmas Turkey."

The trimmings will include Santa's potatoes, Mrs. Claus' peas, yummy Elf ice cream, along with Rudolph's favorite bread, and butter.

Friday's lunch will include a "Cook's Surprise," combination salad, fruit cup, bread, butter and milk.

Needy Family Assisted By Girl Scouts

Brownies of Troop 1049 and Junior Troop 476 in November held a joint service project of gathering clothing and food for a needy Daly City family. The girls worked on their Toy Maker badge, giving toys, either made or repaired, to migrant workers.

Troop 476 held a girl-planned "overnight" at Butano. Nancy Murray and Shirley Brewer were invested at the troop's rededication.

The girls also made a round trip Powell cable car ride, after visiting the Wax Museum as one part of their art-in-the-round requirement.

They will be caroling in the neighborhood during the holiday season.

Troop 2818 went to camp at Bothin and are working on a trip to the Nanheim Council site near Disneyland for spring vacation. They also worked on their calendar sales to raise money to help defray trip expenses.

Troop 1049 planned a December 9 cookout at Junipero Serra.

They will carol at Callison Memorial Hospital and will participate at the evening Daly City Christmas Festival December 18 at the War Memorial Building.

Best Cookie Baking Time Is Christmas

Good morning, good cooks.

Any time of the year is a good time to bake cookies, but Christmas is surely the best time. Beyond the pleasure to be had in mixing, baking and decorating them, the added joy of sharing your creations makes Christmas baking the most rewarding.

And now the coffee companies give us those peachy plastic covers for the coffee cans, we can have the pleasure of decorating the cans with contact paper or burlap or felt and packing our cookies in them for giving.

I hope you've been keeping those coffee cans, cause if you have I'll now give you some recipes for delicious and eye appealing cookies to put in them. We'll start off with these spicy and tasty cut-out cookies.

SPICED CHRISTMAS COOKIES

2¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¾ teaspoon cloves
1 large egg, well beaten
½ cup milk light molasses
¾ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1-3rd cup butter or margarine, melted

In a large mixing bowl sift together the two and three-fourths cups flour, one teaspoon each, soda, salt, ginger, cinnamon, and the three-fourths teaspoon cloves, and set aside. Combine the one well beaten egg with the one-half cup molasses, three-fourths cup brown sugar and one-third cup of melted butter. Beat well to smooth all lumps out of brown sugar. Add to the dry ingredients and mix well. Chill 3 to 4 hours or overnight until dough is stiff enough to handle easily.

Roll dough ¼-inch thick on a lightly floured board. Cut into desired shapes. Place on lightly greased cookie sheets. Bake in preheated 375-degree oven 8 to 10 minutes. Cool on wire racks. Decorate as desired with colored sugar, Decorators Glaze, glazed fruits, raisins and nuts. Makes 8 to 9 dozen cookies. Or 17 large gingerbread men.

DECORATORS' GLAZE

1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
3½ teaspoons water
¼ teaspoon vanilla or almond extract
Food coloring

In a small bowl combine the one cup confectioners sugar with the three and one-half teaspoons water and one-fourth teaspoon flavoring. Blend well and add food coloring. Spread on cooled cookies.

☆ ☆ ☆

This next recipe is for gumdrop cookies. These cookies are so delicious, easy to make and so Christmas-y, that I can't write a cookie column without including them.

GUMDROP COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 eggs, beaten
2 cups brown sugar
¼ cup evaporated milk
½ cup soft, small gumdrops, cut in half (no licorice)
½ cup nuts, chopped

Sift together the two cups flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon. In a mixing bowl blend the three beaten eggs, two cups brown sugar, and one-fourth cup evaporated milk and then beat well. Add the sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Fold in the one-half cup each gumdrops and nuts and pour into a 9x9-inch greased and floured pan. Bake in 325-degree oven about 35 minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

Speaking of candy in cookies, these Chocolate Chip Kanda Cookies are a real great. The candy is pressed into the top of the cookies and the result is a colorful polka-dot cookie.

CHOCOLATE CHIP KANDA COOKIES

1 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 lb. candy coated chocolate bits

Beat the one cup margarine, and the one cup sugar, one-half cup white sugar and cream well. Next add the two teaspoons vanilla and the two eggs, beat. Sift together the two and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture and blend well.

Drop from teaspoon onto ungreased cookie sheet. Decorate each cookie by pressing four or five of the candy coated chocolate bits into each. Since the cookies are in a heap from being dropped from the spoon, you have to crowd the candy on the cookie. But as it bakes the cookie spreads and the result is a round brown cookie with polka-dots of color on top. Bake in 375-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes.

☆ ☆ ☆

THESE NEXT COOKIES are real eye-catchers, they taste yummy and can even be hung on your tree for decorations. And they are well worth the added effort required to shape and bake them.

CANDY CANE COOKIES

1 cup soft shortening (half butter)
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 egg
1½ teaspoons almond flavoring
1 teaspoon vanilla
2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon red food coloring

Heat oven to 375-degrees.

Combine the one cup shortening, one cup confectioners sugar, one egg, one and one-half teaspoon almond flavoring and one teaspoon vanilla, beat well. Sift together the two and one-half cups flour, and one teaspoon salt and stir into the creamed mixture. Divide dough in half. Put the one-half teaspoon red food coloring in one half. Roll one teaspoon each color dough on a lightly floured board into a strip about 4-inches long. Place strips side by side, press lightly together and twist like a rope. Put on ungreased baking sheet.

Curve top down for handle of cane. Bake 9 minutes, or until lightly browned. Remove while still warm, sprinkle with mixture of ½ cup crushed peppermint stick candy and ½ cup sugar. Makes about 4 doz.

SUCCESS TIP: Make complete cookies one at a time. If all the dough of one color is shaped first, the little rolls become too dry to twist.

Happy baking!

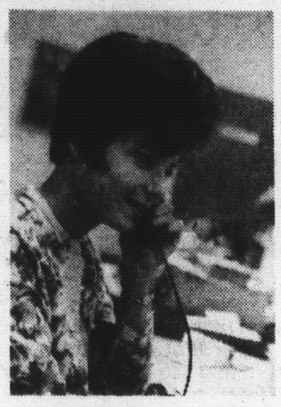
TERRA NOVA TOPICS

A Change at The School Switchboard

"Terra Nova High School, may I help you?"

The familiar voice which answers the TN switchboard is that of Mrs. Mary Jane Wilson, the school receptionist.



MRS. MARY WILSON

Noted for her pleasant manner and receptive humor, Mrs. Wilson is currently serving her third year on the job. She is also currently packing for a big move to a new house. This will involve leaving Terra Nova. Her husband, Don, was recently transferred to Portland, Ore.

The Wilsons, with their six-year-old son, Scott, will move right after Christmas.

Mrs. Wilson will relinquish the switchboard to her successor, Mrs. Mary Henry.

TWO FIELD TRIPS TO San Francisco State were cancelled last week because of the "mill-ins" there.

Mrs. Ebright's English class had planned to attend a poetry reading. Two other English classes under Mike Cassity and Mrs. Pitto were to meet with two San Francisco English classes for a day-long discussion program. The program will be rescheduled for January.

ELIZABETH PATTERSON of Scotland took over for Thailand's Rina Stondi for a visit to Terra Nova last Friday. Both girls are in the U.S. this year as foreign exchange students on the American Field Service program.

Elizabeth attends Hillsdale High and lives in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Leve in Millbrae. She spent the weekend at the home of Terra Nova AFS member Kiki McBride.

AFS activities in her honor were a reception after school Friday, a movie in San Francisco Saturday night and an all-day bike excursion in Golden Gate Park Sunday.

San Bruno Couple Troth

Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Randel Holdsworth of San Bruno announce the engagement of their daughter, Gwynis Lynn, to Craig Alan Krist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Krist of San Bruno.

The future bride attended Crestmoor High School and the College of San Mateo. She is the sister of Robert Lee Holdsworth.

Craig also attended Crestmoor and CSM.

Linda Focht will be maid of honor, and bridesmaids will be Diane Oliver and Barbara Soldano. James Bledsoe will perform best man's duties, and guests will be seated by Bradley Krist, brother of the future bridegroom, and Vince Giardina.

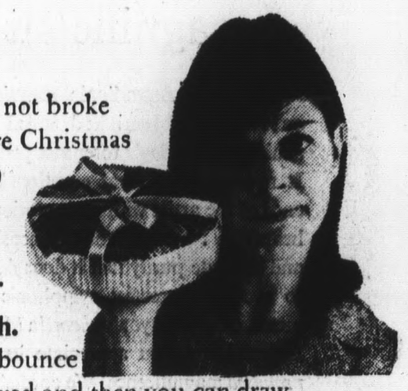
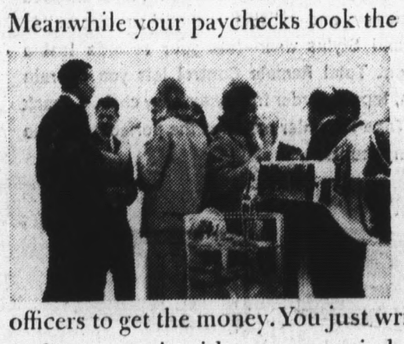
Just what you've always wanted for Christmas:

Cash.

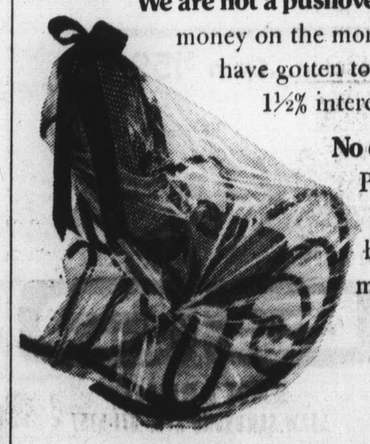


It's just too much holiday for one month to handle. If you're not broke in December, you're positively abnormal. First of all, there are Christmas gifts to pay for. (You can't send everyone fruit-cake, after all.) There's all that extra food (not to mention drink) to pay for. There's the tree and decorations and all that jolly stuff. Meanwhile your paychecks look the same as always: pathetic.



Don't ask Santa for cash. Ask us. Apply for a No-bounce Account, get it all approved and then you can draw the cash you need for these trying times. You can get a loan of $100 to $2400, depending on your own No-bounce Account limit.

You don't have to stare down a lot of grumpy loan officers to get the money. You just write yourself a check (once your account is approved) and we cover it with an automatic loan. There's your cash, and no questions asked.



We are not a pushover. A soft touch, yes. But we do have to make money on the money we lend (after all, how else would we have gotten to an $850-million bank?) So we charge 1½% interest per month on the average daily balance due.

No office at North Pole. We have plenty of offices, none at the North Pole but all in the phone book. Come in, apply for your No-bounce Account and get it all set up. We hate to sound materialistic but face it, a little extra money can make Christmas an awful lot merrier.

LOUANNE HEATH

(Family Life Columnist)

It is a week for parties. Starting things off in Pacifica are the members of the Fifty-Plus Club who will go by chartered bus to Menlo Park this Saturday to give a Christmas party for the 84 veterans of World War I who are confined to the Menlo Veterans Hospital.

The club takes at least nine dozen cookies and many pounds of candy for the men in addition to gifts and a number of entertainers who will sing and play games with the elderly patients.

Members who are planning to go must make reservations with Mrs. Elizabeth Funderberg. Round trip expenses are $1.50, according to Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, president of the club.

Richard Neves, Mrs. Marjorie Somdahl and Mrs. Adela Zamora will sing the solos when the Daly City Community Chorus performs before the holiday crowd at the War Memorial Community Center next Monday evening, according to Mrs. Janet Gilmore, publicity chairman.

The chorus will include its new Christmas selections, Christmas Song, White Christmas and Lullaby on Christmas Eve in the program.

A special gift of appreciation was presented to Mrs. Ann Peters, formerly the publicity chairman for chorus, by her fellow choraliers upon the occasion of her resignation from the group. Mrs. Peters has been in poor health for some months and left the group with a good deal of regret.

Mrs. Tedra Zissimos will host the Tau Gamma chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when the sorority meets on Tuesday evening for its annual Christmas gift exchange and the revealing of secret sisters, according to Mrs. Barbara Hackley, the publicity chairman.

Special ceremonies, presided over by Mrs. Sandra Rose, vesting Mrs. Shirley James with the Ritual of the Jewel degree, will be conducted during the evening, Mrs. Hackley reports.

It has been a busy month for the Tau Gammas. On December 3 Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Roberta Gould, Mrs. Thelma Loos, Mrs. Joanne Purser and Mrs. Hackley represented the local group at the annual sorority Christmas Candlelight brunch. The affair was hosted by the Southern Alemeda County Council in the Castlewood Country Club. On December 5 the chapter met in the home of Mrs. Denise Frary to hold a regular business meeting and to elect Mrs. Rose as princess for the annual Valentine Ball.

Mrs. Gould, of Tau Gamma Chapter, is the chairman of the annual event which will be held in the Elks Club in South San Francisco. Three other Pacifica chapters of Beta Sigma Phi will also elect princesses for the ball and one will be selected queen at the Valentine party, Mrs. Hackley said.

A Christmas party and white elephant sale will be held by the Altar Rosary Sodality of the Church of the Good Shepherd at the parish hall on Wednesday, according to Mrs. Terry Murphy, publicity chairman.

Then the party is scheduled to follow the regular meeting and recitation of the rosary at 8 p.m. Proceeds of the white elephant sale will benefit the sewing groups in its projects for the St. John's Orphanage. Mrs. Rosanna Furman is the chairman of the sale.

The first big event planned by the sodality for 1968 will be a fashion luncheon to be held on February 24 in the Elks Lodge in South San Francisco.

Mrs. Anita Taylor is the general chairman of the show which has been entitled "Come to the Mardi Gras." The show will feature styles from the Fashion of Westlake and wigs by Kitti of California. Proceeds from the show will be pledged to the parish school building fund. Mrs. Murphy indicated.

Members are requested to note that the monthly sodality Communion will be held on Sunday, December 17 at the 10:30 mass. Coffee and doughnuts will be served and sitter service is available to those wishing to attend.

Next Wednesday the members of the Westlake Senior Citizens will hold their Christmas pot-luck and gift exchange in the social hall of the Community Baptist Church in Westlake. According to Willard Wagner, treasurer, the party will include Santa Claus, a Christmas tree and an exchange of gifts.

The members plan to spend the last part of 1967 on a trip to Sparks, Nevada where they will attend the King Family's midnight show at the Nugget, Wagner said.

Illness has caused a change of command at the executive level of the club. Mrs. Beatrice Batz, long-time president of the club, has resigned to be replaced by Mrs. Marguerette Murphy, formerly vice president, and Mrs. Millie Machens will replace Mrs. Murphy as vice president. In that post she will serve as acting president until Mrs. Murphy's health improves and she is able to accept the gavel of her new office.

Mrs. Lyn Humphres has also submitted her resignation as secretary of the club because of ill health. Mrs. Gertrude Bigelow has been elected to succeed Mrs. Humphres. Until Mrs. Machens can assume her post as vice president Claude Putnam will serve in that capacity.

It is not too soon to be thinking about New Year's Eve and, if you are a member of the Our Lady of Mercy Parish, it is not too early to be calling Mrs. William Shanahan for reservations to the annual parish New Year's Eve party.

Mrs. Albert Bucci is the chairman of the party this year and she will be assisted by the members of her committee and John Cresalia, who will act as official host once again, according to Mrs. Molly Galliani, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women.

Attire for the evening will be semi-formal and the theme will be the Mad Hatter Gala with prizes for the persons wearing the most original hats.

Tickets are being sold for $15 per couple with refreshments, a buffet and all the New Year's decor and favors as well as the music of Pete Maiorana included in the one price.

Local friends are currently congratulating Goetz Klopfer, a candidate for his Ph.D. at Stanford University, for his remarkable performance on December 2.

Klopfer broke four American records during the track and field meet in Santa Rosa. The 25-year-old Klopfer literally walked away with a new record in the 35 kilometer, 40 and 50 kilometer events and in the 25 mile competition.

Westlake Home For Newlywed Robert Blacks

Gloria Joan Mangini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mario Mangini of Daly City, was married recently to Robert Black, son of Mrs. Rosemary Black of San Francisco.

Candi, as the bride is known, is the sister of Laurie Mangini and Mrs. Thomas McGrath and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Del Carlo of Daly City.

The couple is at home in Westlake after a Carmel honeymoon.

Mother's Club Program Set

Our Lady of Perpetual Help Mother's Club will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school hall.

After the meeting will be a musical program with the Daly City Community Chorus entertaining.

This will be followed by the annual Christmas party and the exchanging of small gifts.

Fourth grade mothers will be hostesses for the evening. Hospitality chairmen are Mrs. James Ruth and Mrs. Moses Guillory.

Area Singers At Stonestown

Daly City area singing groups are appearing evenings at the Stonestown mall location of Grodins of California.

Among those participating on various evenings are singing groups and choirs representing Westmoor and Jefferson High Schools, the Misty Hills Chapter Sweet Adelines, Our Lady of Mercy, The Carousselles, Melody Lads and the San Andreas Faults.

Christmas Came Early For Improvement Club

Christmas came early for the members of the executive board of Pacifica's Manor Village Improvement Club, when they held their annual party and dinner at Nick's Rockaway Beach December 8.

Dancing followed the dinner and exchange of gifts.

Board members who attended included Mrs. Jean Jensen, Mrs. Mildred Van De Water, Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schnittgrund, John W. More, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Doyle and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodrigues.

The improvement club is one of the oldest organizations of its kind in Pacifica and embraces the Edgemar, Pacific Manor and Manor Village districts.

NEW YEAR EVENT

The Festival committee of Our Lady of Mercy has scheduled a Mad Hatter gala for New Years Eve. The party ticket is $15 a couple and may be obtained from Mrs. William Shanahan, 836 Southgate.

Post All-County Prep Selections Announced

Two 24-Man Units From 22 Schools

By JOHN HORGAN
Post Sports Writer

Football players from Sequoia and Serra High schools, rated one-two in San Mateo County during the past season, dominate the 1967 Post's All-County grid team announced today.

South Peninsula Athletic League champion Sequoia, which recorded a perfect 9-0-0 mark this year, had four players named to the first team and three picked for the second unit.

Serra, runner-up in the rugged West Catholic Athletic League race, got three players on the first team, all of them integral parts of the Padres' exciting pass-catch offense which averaged 30 points per game in an 8-1-0 season.

Faced with an overabundance of fine backs and ends, The Post's staff of prep writers named three ends to the first team and five backs to the second team, making a total of 24 prep gridders honored this year. The SPAL dominated the selections with 12 players named to the two teams.

The first string backfield, one of the best seen in the county in this decade, is composed of: Serra's passing gem, Jesse Freitas; Sequoia's standout tailback, Barr Curry; Ravenswood's halfback Lincoln Minor; and South San Francisco's Russ Cottrell.

In the line, the writers named: Serra Lynn Swann and big Pat McGlennon and Sequoia's amazing Eric Dahl at the ends; Sequoia's Marc Douglas and Woodside's Jim Constantz at the tackles; Westmoor's Tom McBride and San Mateo's Mike Stewart at the guards; and Sequoia's Ray Balzarini at center.

The backs and ends on the first club are one of the most prolific groups of record-setting lads ever to be assembled on one team.

Led by Freitas and Curry, both juniors, the statistcial assault mounted by this seven-player unit kept writers and fans in a tizzy most of the season.

For example: Freitas completed 61 per cent of his passes for 1,686 yards and 22 touchdowns, while Curry, described by some as better than Gary Beban (an ex-Sequoia great) at a similar stage of development, amassed 965 yards passing and 641 yards rushing and he accounted for 24 TD's in league play.

Curry, widely acclaimed as one of the area's most complete players, was named SPAL Offensive Player of the Year last week, and was named to The Post's All-County unit last year as a defensive player.

Minor and Cottrell, two dissimilar running backs at opposite ends of the county, also had high-scoring years.

Minor, a huge 6-4 linesmasher of collegiate proportions, averaged 5.9 yards per carry in SPAL play and scored 15 times in eight league games. He amassed a total of 1,017 yards rushing and in pass receptions to rank as one of his league's best all-around backs.

Cottrell, the North Peninsula League's Back of the Year, played in just seven games due to injuries and, due to the nature of some of the competition in the weak NPL, saw only token action in some of those seven contests as well.

This shifty sprinter tallied 17 times, eight times on kick-off and punt returns. He averaged 7.2 yards per carry and ran for 569 yards for the year.

—Westmoor's McBride was named Lineman of the Year in the NPL and is regarded by his coaches as one of the best linemen ever produced at the Daly City school.

Sea Lion Swim Awards

Fourteen-year-old Steve Morgan received top honors at the second annual Pacifica Sea Lions Swim Club Awards Dinner last week, taking the "Most Valuable Swimmer" award on the basis of points acccmulated during the past season.

Sea Lion swimmers were awarded points during the regular season on the basis of attendance, participation and performance. Morgan also received the award last year.

Rex Starr, 17, was awarded the "Outstanding Swimmer" trophy for his performance this season, and 15-year-old Jeanne McCulley won the "Girls High Point" trophy.

More than 140 swimmers were presented trophies and certificates at the awards dinner, which was held at Ortega School.

The Parks, Beach and Recreation Department sponsored the affair.

Capuchino Continues Win Streak

The Capuchino High School Mustangs continued their role as the surprise team of San Mateo County prep basketball last night, much to the delight of their fans and Coach Jimmy Johnson.

Cap scored a 70-49 rout over Menlo-Atherton for the Mustangs' fourth straight win without defeat.

'We're doing a lot better than I had expected," Johnson said after the game. "We've been getting balanced scores in every one of our games."

Last night was no exception as the Mustangs had three men hit in double figures. Cap hosts Serra on Friday.

Toledo's Passing

BOB TOLEDO, the San Francisco State College senior quarterback who led his team to a 9-1 record in a "rebuilding year," its eleventh Far Western Conference title in the last 15 autumns, an invitation to the Camelia Bowl, and who had an arm in establishing 10 team and individual NCAA College and University Division records (three additional pending), may be the best passing high school coach in the country next year.

Because of two inches he didn't grow after high school, Toledo probably missed prime Little All American consideration to Lawrence's Charles McKee — the pro scout darling — an East-West berth, and a high pro draft selection. Just 5-10 (he was 5-9 when he graduated high school), Toledo may never get the opportunity a 6-foot QB would get with the same credentials.

There have been several pro feelers, but Toledo, who did make Northern California Back of The Year, says he won't sign unless, "there's enough money involved to make me put off my first love," which is coaching at the secondary school level.

What makes Toledo even less marketable is that he wouldn't even have the scrambler's chance in the pros. He's strictly a drop-back passer.

"We left running to the runners," he says.

There were about 10 opponents this past season who wondered what Toledo would have done if he were six feet tall, and who wished he would have run occasionally.

In leaving the running to the runners, Toledo attempted 396 passes, completed 211 for a percentage of 53.5 and 3513 yards, averaged 16.6 yards per completion, 8.9 per attempts, and threw the fantastic total of 45 TD passes.

TRANSLATED into national records, Toledo's spectacular season read thus:

PERSONAL: Most yards gained by rush and pass, College and University Division, 3409; most yards gained by rush and pass per game, College and University Division, 340.9; Most yards gained passing, College and University Division, 3513; Most TD passes thrown, College and University Division, 45.

TEAM: Most yards passing per game, College and University Division, 387.0; Most passes attempted, College Division, 457; Most TD passes, College and University Division, 49 . . . Pending, Most PAT's attempted (63); Most PAT's made (55); Most passes intercepted (31).

JOE KOONTZ (Toledo's prime receiver): Most yards gained on passes caught, College Division, 1287; Most TD passes caught, College and University division, 18.

JIM BRIAN (Kicker): Most PAT's made, 50.

NO WONDER Toledo gained the sobriquet, "Holy Toledo."

Toledo is no one season flash. He was a junior college All American at San Jose City College, and was the Gator total offense leader last year even though he played only three complete games, as he completed 66 of 140 passes for 788 yards and 8 TD's.

Even without '66's totals, Toledo, in this ONE season, broke virtually every Gator CAREER passing and total offense record, and this with a team which has always been offense-oriented and air-minded, and with a history of outstanding small college QB's, including Maury Duncan, who put in a couple of seasons with the 49er's and once led the Canadian League in passing.

Toledo did it all with a masterful display of passing versatility, throwing long and short, hard and soft to anybody who could catch a ball — not just to Koontz, who snarred 66.

ED LARIOS, the two-time All Conference tight end who led Koontz and the Gators in receptions last year, caught 53 for 838 yards and 11 TD's, which would have broken all of the previous Gator receiving records set in 1953 by George Wehner, who grabbed 44 for 719 and 9 TD's. Even the Gators' THIRD leading receiver, wingback Dennis Highalnd, came within reach of Wehner's receiving total (42), broke his yardage record (771), and tied his TD total. and no fewer than EIGHT different Gator receivers caught TD passes.

Some skeptics point out what appears to be a flaw in Toledo's record — 24 interceptions.

But upon close examination on the figures, it's found that Toledo had a pass interception after only every 16.5 attempts, which isn't a bad percentage, especially when considering that the opposition KNEW Toledo was passing and that Toledo sometimes had to loft passes — a practice conducive to interceptions — over the outstretched hands of big, charging linemen. Add the fact that Toledo's TD passes came on the average of every 8.8 attempts, 4.7 completions, and its understandable why Coach Vic Rowen — to his ever lasting credit — continued to encourage Toledo to throw.

What the preceding wealth of statistics very simply illustrate is that Toledo made monkeys of the logisticians who formulated the axiom that a strictly passing team is a desperate team which can't move the ball steadily and hardly ever wins championships.

STATE actually had ball control through the air. "Coach Rowen and his staff felt that passing is what we do best, so we passed," Toledo logically explains.

It was a good strategy. With virtually the identical team which finished 7-3 last year sporting a "balanced" attack, '67's Gators almost went undefeated, losing only to powerful Santa Clara on a desperation pass with 40 seconds remaining in the game.

Actually, much of the Gator attack was an anomaly. Classically, split ends are the dangerous guys who go for the bombs. The tight ends are the blockers who occasionally catch a short first down pass.

Toledo, however, despite misleading statistics which show Koontz averaging 19.5 yards per reception and Larios with "just" a 16.0 average, basically used Koontz for the first down plays and Larios for the bombs.

BOTH LARIOS and Koontz are prime pro prospects. Koontz, an East-West shrine selection, is 6-1, weighs 195, has good speed, fine hands and great moves. Larios is a 6-2, 210 pound senior still growing. He also has the good hands, a tremendous ability to cut sharply, and is so fast (he's a step faster than Koontz) that he's considered a better bet to make it in the pros as a flanker than as a tight end.

If either Koontz or Larios ever do make it in pro ranks, they can always brag that they were helped along by a littly "Holy" man with a big arm.

Bowling Students For D C

A unique physical education program got underway in Daly City this week as 1,000 Jefferson High School students began a six-week bowling course as part of their approved curriculum.

The students, under an arrangement with the Serra Bowl management, will receive bowl ing instructions two days each week for a period of six weeks.

The program was instituted on a small scale last year after Serra Bowl proprietor Rex Golobic offered the school district free use of the bowling facilities.

The school district provides physical education instructors and bus transportation to and from the bowling alley for the lessons.

The new program is the largest bowling program of its type in Northern California, and current plans call for expansion next year.

Golobic said he decided to offer the use of his facilities after hearing of a similar program in the East.

"My motives aren't completely altruistic," he confided this week. "After the kids learn to bowl and discover what a truly pleasurable activity it is, they will be back for more."

The school district has been interested in a bowling program for several years, but could not afford to institute it without the free facilities.

Ram Grapplers Are Clobbered By Los Altos

Last Friday the Los Altos wrestling team romped to a 30-19 win over Westmoor.

A Westmoor attempted comeback in the heavy weights was not enough to overcome complete domination of the middle weights by Los Altos, which won eight out of 13 matches.

Los Altos won the first two matches, lost the third match, and then won the next six straight matches.

Of the eight wins three were by pins. Los Altos started off the meet with a pin in the 95-pound bracket, and they pinned again at 127's and 154's.

Westmoor's only sustained scoring came in the heavy weight divisions.

The Rams, behind 30-3, began their scoring streak as Shell Klein of Westmoor decisioned Jim Hess by two points in the 165-pound division.

Some quick scoring followed, as in the next two matches Burt Lanthier pinned Smith in the second round and Steve McBride pinned Andnos near the end of the third round.

Unlimited Don Barbitta closed the gap further as he decisioned Fritz 9-2. The comeback was to no avail, as the final score stood 19-30. The loss by Westmoor ended a streak of 16 dual meets in which they were unbeaten and untied.

Westmoor Tops Mission Quint

The Westmoor High School basketball team has served notice that it will be a power to be reckoned with in the 1968 North Peninsula League cage wars.

Coach Tony Giamonna's crew made it two straight yesterday by knocking off Mission High, 51-39, in a practice game on the Ram hardwoods.

Gary Soules paced the Westmoor attack with 20 points.

CSM Opens Mat Season With Win

The College of San Mateo wrestling team opened its 1967-68 Golden Gate Conference season on a successful note last week by defeating San Jose City College, 27-16, on the Bulldog mats.

Phil Deal and Bob Garcia came through with impressive victories for Coach Lee Allen's crew, who are now 2-0 in dual meet competition.

The Bulldog grapplers' next conference match is scheduled December 15 against Foothill at CSM.

Namanny Voted 'Most Valuable'

Backs took most of the honors at College of San Mateo's football awards banquet.

In addition to receiving the Murius McFadden Memorial as the outstanding player in the Golden Gate Conference, CSM fullback Al Namanny from Jefferson High was recognized by his fellow players as the team's most valuable player.

Players voted sophomore linebacker Vic Ornelas (El Camino), a transfer from the UCLA Frosh, their most inspirational player.

The President's Trophy for excellence was awarded to Namanny's running mate the past dinner.

Freshman quarterback Bruce Wood from Serra was voted most improved player.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bliss of Menlo Park accepted the sophomore blanket award won by their son Dave, who died of a head injury after CSM's game with Santa Monica CC.

BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Laura "The Darling Of Greece" Zorba's Dec. 10

THE LONG-AWAITED opening of Laura, "The Sweetheart of Greece," at Alexi's Zorba supper club has arrived. An entertainment favorite in this country as well as in Greece, Laura, who flew in direct from New York for her Peninsula engagement, has been featured in many movies, television shows, and has two gold records to her credit. Sparing no expense to bring this exotic bit of loveliness to the Bay Area, owner Mike Kourkoutakis is proud of his supporting all-Greek cast of entertainers. Authentic Greek cuisine prpared by internationally known Peter Alex is featured nightly, except Monday. Peter Laris is host-manager of this popular nitery located by the shoreline of the Bay, in Burlingame.

M. Kourkatakis

D. W. HENDERSON was elected a vice president of Foster Lunch System, Ltd., at the annual meeting held recently. Mr. Henderson, who has been a director since 1958, has been employed with Fosters since 1937 in the restaurants and bakeries. He is presently involved in all phases of management.

☆ ☆ ☆

COMEDIAN EDDIE FOY, JR. was laughing it up at the antics of Francis Blair and Jean Evol, the "two old bags" of vaudeville days, and Jackie Phillips, who are among Finocchio's big cast of female impersonators. These seasoned performers, who have played all over the country, considered this a big compliment. . . .The Sun Spots, a Filipino comedy-musical quintet, is now headlining the Theater Lounge show of the Holiday Hotel, in downtown Reno, through December 20. The dusk-till-dawn show also showcases the Esquires and Charles Gould and his Satin Strings. Bert Vergara, George LaTorre, Jun Obinque and Roger LaTorre add zest to the entertainment with fast-paced comedy . . . The Martells Quintet, redhot group from Las Vegas, now making the songs and music at the Galaxie on SF's Broadway, corner of Kearny. The lads also play for the Galaxie Topless dancers.

Jackie Phillips

DO YOU KNOW that Bruno's, in downtown San Mateo, also offers an excellent banquet facility? Chef and co-owner Bruno Fava says that he can accommodate groups up to 40 people, with special price consideration given. Private gatherings are sure to receive the same royal treatment and service that Bruno and co-owner Tom Zucchelli give their regular patrons . . . Tara, the Topless charmer at George Franges' Brass Rail Pussy Cat GoGo, has been featured in eleven national magazines and scores of newspapers across the nation. Although her well-publicized proportions have been draped across movie screens, the best way to see her 42 inch topped physique is in person at the Brass Rail, where she is starred nightly in the nightly Topless and GoGo show. . . .

Tom Zucchelli

INSTEAD OF OFFERING special menus for the various holidays, the new dinner menu in the Holiday Inn's Royal Hall will be effective throughout the year, report the Rapp brothers, owners of this popular South San Francisco enterprise. As far as diners are concerned, sweeter words were never spoken. The menu's moderate prices and wide selection of entrees is enticement enough for festive occasions . . . Making a big hit with the early Sunday evening dancing crowd is the special $1.25 dinner at the Rock Garden on Mission near Ocean Avenue, in San Francisco. The dinner and dancing to the great Tracy Brothers combo begins at 6 p.m., with minors welcome. Talent auditions for recording contracts are another popular early Sunday Rock Garden feature . . . Whether for a coffee and Stickney's delicious pastry break, or a complete luncheon or dinner, Stickney's restaurants in Santa Clara, Palo Alto, Redwood City and San Mateo offer tired Peninsula Christmas shoppers a perfect resting spot.

Fred Rapp

☆ ☆ ☆

PEOPLE WHO CHRISTMAS SHOP and dine downtown are finding Phil Lehr's Steakery THE place. They can park in the huge lot adjoining the Steakery, shop, come back, bundles in car, dinner in the Steakery, and no waiting for their car after dinner. . . . As a unique service for you sportsmen, Fred Martinelli of Oliver's restaurant will prepare, in season, your wild game. You name it—duck, pheasant, or even venison, and Fred's expert chefs will prepare your bounty to please the most exacting taste . . . Frank Fabbro, Tommy Phipps, and company, were absent from the bustle of Fabbro's for a short time, yesterday, as they all headed for Bay Meadows to enjoy Fabbro's annual "Day at the Races." The seventh race of the day honored the Redwood City dining haven. You can safely bet that "handicapper" Phipps, who favors number seven, lost his usual "cool."

Phil Lehr

Augie's Now Featuring All Italian Menu

"Augie's has gone Italian!" — and a visit to the redecorated Third Avenue restaurant is certain to please you with its culinary delights. By giving chef Tony a free hand in the kitchen, owners Augie and Phyliss Aprile have insured presenting the best possible in Italian cuisine. With prices still being remarkably moderate, complete dinners begin at just $3.50. Both luncheon and dinner service is now offered seven days a week. Live entertainment and dancing every Friday and Saturday night.

☆

A new Greek restaurant will open on the Peninsula down Redwood City way, next week. Aptly named Athens Royale, John Stamatis and his Orchestra will entertain and play for dancing. So if you're planning a trip to Greece, make the Athens Royale your first "port of call." Reservations are now being taken for New Year's Eve.

Automatic Recorder Takes Reservations At Scotty Campbell's

Although Scotty Campbell's doesn't open for business until 5 p.m., dinner reservations may be called in earlier in the day. The enterprising Redwood City restaurant owners have installed an automatic recording device which tapes the time desired and number in your party. Later, they simply play it back and make necessary arrangement for table accommodations.

Double Header For Fireside Patrons

THE ENTERTAINMENT "DOUBLE HEADER" currently showcased at the Fireside Lounge, one of the Peninsula's hottest night spots, is a musical combination difficult to match. Owners Jack McRae and Phil Maita, who have blanketed the country in search of talent, have inked in two top groups for extended engagements. Presently headlining the nightly show are Mr. Clean and The Uncalled Four, who have appeared in several spots on the Peninsula in the past. Featured during the recently introduced Saturday and Sunday morning after-hours shows are Sly and The Family Stone, a wild band direct from Las Vegas. For extra show zest, Jack and Phil have also "recruited" several well-endowed Topless dancers.

☆ ☆ ☆

"Fish Fry" is Friday's featured menu attraction in the Villa Coffee House of the Villa Hotel, and a full house is expected for dinner. The restaurant's changing daily special for Saturday, as it is every Saturday, is the $2 Roast Beef Dinner. Sunday nights are "Family Plan Nights," when a special discount to all families is offered. Any night of the week will find a special plate featured, with prices ranging from $1.75 for the "Fish Fry" to $2.25 for the Tuesday "Club Steak."

☆

Business has increased three fold at San Francisco's Longley's since the introduction of escalator service seven days a week. Here, you may dine cafeteria-style in penthouse fashion with the City as a grand backdrop. Be sure to look over the wall display of oil paintings by artist John Sackas of historical Old Produce Market. Really worth while.

☆

A. Sabella's traditional New Year's Eve party will be celebrated this year, as usual, and, as usual, A. Sabella's will not raise the price for the food-fun package. $12.50 per person includes all taxes. Tickets are available at the Fisherman's Wharf dining mecca for those desiring to make reservations in advance — and that's just what I suggest you do.

☆

Scanned the Villa Chartier and Lanai reservation books with owner Emerson Murfee, Tuesday morn, and it's my suggestion, if your're planning a special holiday party with either of these restaurants your target, to make reservations right now Nine banquet rooms are "at your service."

Fork 'n' Cork New Year's Eve Special Dinner

Vic and Julie Proul's new Fork 'n' Cork chef, Floyd Hughie, will prepare a sumptuous New Year's Eve dinner, with a choice of three entrees—Prime Rib, Lobster Tail and Choice Cut New York Steak, and served with soup, salad, beverage and dessert. Included in the low price of $5.50 per person for the holiday special, will be a small bottle of champagne. Make your reservations now

☆

Yolanda Fambrini, host-owner of Yolanda's Terminal Cafe, in South San Francisco's busy Golden Gate Produce Terminal, and Manager Chuck Winstead will host a gala Christmas party Friday, December 15. A free buffet will be served from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. — and you're all invited to join the fun. Santa Claus (Chuck?) will present gifts to all party goers, including perfume for the ladies.

Make Pretty Party Cookies To Brighten the Holidays

A plate of homemade iced and glittering cookies is an impressive finale at a dinner. Fancy cookies tucked in the saucer makes mid-afternoon coffee a special occasion. Pack decorated cookies in a pretty box and they become an unusual hostess gift or high-priced favorite at the Christmas bazaar.

And these festive little cookies are so easy to make. Convenience foods eliminate the time-taking and muss-making parts of the job, leaving the creative and fun, baking and decorating for you.

With your own ideas and a little practice you'll be turning out creations that look like the work of Pierre, the pastry chef.

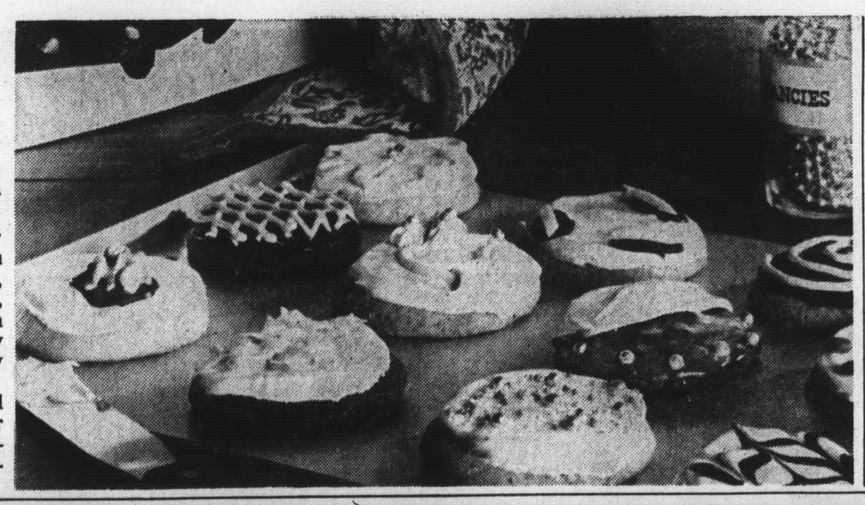
Start with new Frozen Easy Bake Cookies. These frozen preformed drops of cookie dough are all ready to be separated, placed on a cookie sheet and baked. Any of the four flavors — Vanilla Sugar, Chocolate Chip, Fudge Nut, or Oatmeal Raisin would be suitable. Bake as many as desired and cool. Prepare a package of fluffy white frosting mix and if you like, tint protions of it with food coloring. Spread over top of cooled cookies. Melted semi-sweet chocolate also makes a good frosting.

Now sprinkle some with colored sugar, silver balls, chopped nuts, coconut, fancies, chocolate sprinkles or decorate with Chopped Dates, candied fruit, chocolate chips, tiny cinnamon candies, gumdrops, or whole nuts.

For a feather effect, place drops of melted semi-sweet chocolate on soft white frosting and streak with a small spatula or toothpick.

Use a pastry tube or bag or homemade wax paper bag with a thin plain point to make stars, pinwheels, alphabet letters, scallops, or crisscrosses. With a star point, you can make tiny rosettes, garlands, and dainty orders.

Now that you've started you'll probably think of lots of other easy ways to turn plain homemade cookies into party cookies.



Colonial Recipe for Eggnog

There are many recipes for traditional eggnog. This party size recipe has been pleasing hosts, hostesses and their guests for many generations; is known as "a famed Colonial recipe." At this season, local dairies also offer quart containers of rich, smooth and ready eggnog as well as "the makings." If you're having a party, this recipe makes approximately 4 quarts of eggnog or enough for 30 half-cup (4-ounce) portions.

1½ cups sugar
10 egg yolks, beaten
1 quart milk, scalded
½ teaspoon salt
10 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
½ cup brandy
¼ cup light rum
Freshly ground nutmeg

Blend ½ cup of the sugar with beaten egg yolks in top of double boiler. Stir in scalded milk slowly. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats spoon. Chill thoroughly. Add salt to egg whites and beat stiff. Beat in remaining cup of sugar gradually.

Fold egg whites and whipped cream into mixture separately. Add brandy and rum. Chill several hours. Pour into pre-chilled punch bowl; sprinkle with nutmeg.

Old World Festival Dish Very Hearty

An old world German festival celebrating the fall harvest ends in a country feast. The menu is hearty, as fits the occasion. Green pea soup awakens the appetite for the abundant seasonal dishes that follow. Roast 2 ducks (about 4 pounds each) to have enough to serve 6 and have leftovers.

Green Pea Soup
Roast Duckling with Old-Fashioned Poultry Stuffing
Sauerkraut with Caraway Seeds
Marinate Cucumbers
Pumpernickel Bread
Cherry Strudel (frozen)
Coffee with whipped cream
Apple Cider

OLD-FASHIONED POULTRY STUFFING

8 cups bread cubes
1 cup chopped celery
½ cup finely chopped onion
¼ to ½ teaspoon poultry seasoning
Dash pepper
¼ cup butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup

Brown bread cubes on cookie sheet at 350 degrees F. for 5 minutes. In skillet, cook celery and onion with seasonings in butter until vegetables are tender. Add soup; mix lightly with bread. Spoon into 1½ quart casserole. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Makes 6 cups stuffing.

Bean Sprouts And Shrimp Make Salad

Shrimp and Bean Sprout Salad is an exciting change.

SHRIMP AND BEAN SPROUT SALAD

1 pound raw shrimp in the shell (about 2 cups cleaned and cooked)
1 quart water
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
½ pound fresh bean spourts
4 green onions, including some green top, diagonally sliced

Shell and devein shrimp. Combine water and salt. Bring to a boil and add shrimp. Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 3 to 5 minutes. Drain. In bottom of large bowl, combine red wine vinegar, salad oil and seasoned salt. Add shrimp and toss to coat thoroughly. Refrigerate and allow to marinate for several hours. Pour boiling water over bean sprouts. Then rinse with cold water. Refrigerate until icy cold. When ready to serve, add bean sprouts and green onions. Toss thoroughly.

Makes about 6 servings.

1 can (1 pound) bean sprouts may be substituted. Drain and rinse with cold water.

A Gourmet Topping Tip

Finely chopped and butteerd almond slivers make a truly gourmet topping for vegetables. Home economists from Fisher Nut Company particularly recommend this topping for cooked broccoli and cauliflower.

There's A Trick To Preparing Beef

There's a trick to preparing and serving certain cuts of beef — top or bottom round, sirloin tip and rump — that are to be oven-cooked and yet are not as tender as rib roasts.

A friend of mine, who often roasts these less tender and less expensive cuts for her family, passes along this advice:

"It may come as a surprise to many cooks that delicatessens often use one of these cuts for their ubiquitous sliced roast beef. To achieve a result my family likes, I use a low oven temperature and a meat thermometer to avoid over-cooking because this kind of roast must be served rare or medium-rare. In addition I make sure the meat is cut extremely thin. If a cook doesn't have a slicing machine (who does?) or extra-sharp knives, or if thin slicing is not her or her husband's forte, she may find that an electric knife is the answer.

"I'd also like to offer some advice about meat thermometers. I find that the mercury-type meat thermometer is more reliable than the spring-action type. After breaking several thermometers that had glass rods, I bought a stainless steel one and am delighted with it.

"Lately I've been marinating a rump of beef before roasting it. The aroma of the meat during roasting is tantalizing and the flavor of the meat is delicious. A four-pound boneless rump roast, while a fine size for an average family, is also a good buy for a young couple. The leftover meat, sliced thin, is great for a cold platter, sandwiches and snacks."

One small suggestion to add to my friend's advice. After the meat goes into the oven, use a slotted spoon to remove the onions from the marinade. They will have taken on some color, but no matter. Heat a couple of tablespoons of butter in a skillet and cook the onions until they and tender-crisp. Then if you can restrain yourself from eating them all up before the family sits down at the table, dole them out with the meat.

MARINATED RUMP ROAST

4 pound boneless rump roast
2 cups dry red wine
½ cup salad oil
1 large onion, cut in thin strips
2 teaspoons salt
8 crushed peppercorns
1 teaspoon thyme
½ teaspoon oregano
1 bay leaf
1 clove garlic, chopped

Place roast in a large bowl or nonmetalic casserole. Add remaining ingredients. Cover and marinate in refrigerator 8 to 24 hours, turning once. Remove roast from marinade and wipe with a paper towel. Place in a shallow roasting pan with a V-shape rack. Insert meat thermometer into the thickest part of the meat. Place in a 450-degree oven: roast 10 minutes to start the browning. Reduce heat to 275 degrees and continue roasting about 2 hours and 30 minutes per pound after the browning or until meat thermometer reaches 130 degrees for rare or 140 degrees for medium. Let stand on heated platter about 15 to 20 minutes. Slice very thin.

Added notes: A shallow roasting pan with a V-shaped rack allows full circulation of the heat. These pans come with nonstick linings in two sizes — 12¾ by 9 by 1⅜ inches and 15½ by 12 by 1⅝ inches. The smaller size is great for a small roast, chicken, duck and a half ham. The larger size is perfect for turkey, leg of lamb and a big ham.

Crusty Bread Rises In A Refrigerator

This crusty substantial bread rises in the refrigerator.

Beef Stew with Vegetables, Celery sticks, Italian Bread, Baked Apples, with Custard Sauce.

ITALIAN BREAD

1¾ cups warm water
2 packages active dry yeast
1 Tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
5½ to 6½ cups unsifted regular flour
Cornmeal
Salad not olive oil
1 egg white mixed with 1 talbespoon water.

In a large warm bowl dissolve the yeast in the water. Add salt, butter and 2 cups flour. Beat with rotary beater until smooth—about 8 minutes. Add 1 cup flour. Beat vigorously with wooden spoon until smooth — about 150 strokes. Work in enough additonal flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead until smooth and elastic — 8 to 10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel; let set for 20 minutes.

Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a 15 by 10 inch oblong. Beginning at 15-inch side, roll up tightly; pinch edges to seal. Taper ends by rolling gently back and forth. Place on greased cookie sheet sprinkeld with cornmeal. Brush loaves with oil. Cover loosely with wax paper brushed with oil; top with plastic wrap. Refrigerate 2 to 4 hours.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator; uncover. Let stand uncovered for 10 minutes at room temperature. With an oiled toothpick puncture any gas bubbles on top of loaves. With a razor, make 4 light diagonal cuts on top of each loaf. Bake at 425 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with egg white mixed with cold water. Continue baking 10 minutes longer or until loaves sound hollow when tapped with knuckles.

1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato pieces
1 cup drained canned whole kernel corn
8 cooked tamales

Into a 10-inch skillet pour the tomato sauce; stir in the corn. Arrange the tamales in the sauce. Cover and heat gently, stirring the sauce several times until the tamales are thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings. If you like, you may top each serving with grated cheddar cheese.

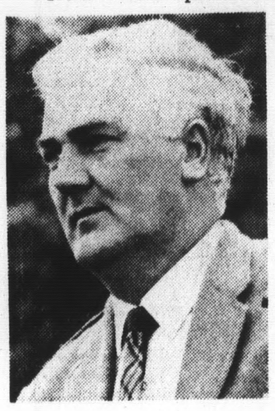
TOM ROONEY IS as Irish as his name. Indeed some of Rooney's friends are convinced there are a few leprechauns among his ancestors.

Irish folklore pictures a leprechaun as a tricky old man who may reveal the hiding place of treasure if caught. He also is pictured as a jovial little fellow with an appreciate eye for a well turned ankle.



Peter Anderson

And, of course, everyone knows that all leprechauns love animals almost as much as their clay pipes.

From time to time Rooney puffs on a clay pipe. His love of animals is well known. He once took a kangaroo on a nationwide tour. And for a couple of generations he has been watching the girls go by.

As for revealing the hiding place of treasure, Rooney pointed the way for sports and boat people more than a quarter of a century ago when he taught them the technique of putting their products in an attractive showcase.

NOW ROONEY IS getting ready his twenty-sixth annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show that opens at the Cow Palace January 12 and will run through January 21. He is particularly proud of this production because it's in a new prestige spot, No. 1. Heretofore, the New York show used to be held in January and the San Francisco show in February.

"So manufacturers will be introducing their 1968 lines at our show," said Rooney who provides them with exhibit areas at $2 per square foot for booth space, $1.50 per square foot for bulk space restricted to boats, boat trailers and engines.

Through the years Rooney has been a persuasive salesman because now all the big names in the boat world are participants in his show.

And Rooney has proved himself to be one of the top showmen in the country. He provides the customers with first class sports entertainment.

A FEATURE OF his original show was a Huck Finn casting pool for youngsters. Rooney never will discard the casting pool. "Why," he said, "among today's fishermen are yesterday's youngsters who wet their first line in our pool."

This year Rooney is bringing Peter Anderson, Scotland's fly-casting champion, from Kirkintilloch to the Cow Palace to demonstrate his skills in a 100-foot-long landscaped casting pool.

A revolutionary water ski training device that makes it possible to practice and actually learn water skiing indoors without a boat is another feature of Rooney's 1968 show.

★ ★ ★

SOME YEARS ago he persuaded one of the nation's top dog trainers to bring his Labrador retrievers to San Francisco. They stole the show as they executed hand commands of their master flawlessly. But that wasn't Rooney's favorite act. What is?

"Why," he said, "I thought everyone knew that—pretty girls sitting on pretty boats. Their lines complement each other."

MISSING CAP CAPER—Richard Given's Christmas would be a whole lot happier if the person who "borrowed" the ornate radiator cap from his 1930 Willys-Knight coupe would return it. The youth, scheduled to enter the Navy in only six days, said there would be "no questions asked, plus a small reward" for the return of the rare radiator cap. (Post Photo)

Needle in a Haystack Easier To Find Than Radiator Cap

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Different people want different things for Christmas.

Some women hope for a mink coat.

There are even those who occasonally ask Santa for their two front teeth.

All a Sacramento youth wants before he goes into the navy is a radiator cap for his car.

It's not just any "old" radiator cap, but a rare and ornate cap that fits his 1930 Willys-Knight coupe—a car that has been out of production since 1932.

The cap was stolen from the vintage vehicle earlier this week while parked in front of 61 Creston Avenue in Daly City.

The distraught car owner, Richard Given, said he "sure would like to have that cap back before I go into the navy this week."

What makes replacement of the cap difficult is the fact that there are only two such cars still in running condition in the country.

Given said he had already started writing to the owner of the other classic, in the hopes of locating a spare radiator cap.

"I think it's hopeless," Given said. "It may take years of searching through junk yards to find the original cap."

The car is in excellent condition (except for the missing cap) and is considered by collectors to be priceless.

In most cases where parts are needed for this model car, they must be specially forged, and that costs quite a bit of money — of which I have little," Given explained.

The Willys-Knight Company went out of business in 1932, changing to the Willys-Overland Company.

Young Given was given the car following graduation from Sacramento High School by his father.

He was visiting his sister, Mrs. Beverly Venturini, for the holidays when the cap was taken.

Given has promised a reward "with no questions asked" to any person returning the cap.

If any of this newspapers' readers happen to stumble across an especially artistic-looking radiator cap they are requested to bring or mail it to either Mrs. Beverly Venturini, 61 Creston Avenue, Daly City, or this newspaper.

Our Opinion

Skeptical Consumers

For reasons that are not always clear, lobbyists, unions, and various other groups like to fight assorted battles in Congress in the name of the consumer. Their appeals frequently hit responsive chords on such subjects as inflation, taxes and the high cost of living.

But when a number of these pressure groups got together to form the Consumers' Federation of America, the response from the rank and file consumer was deafeningly silent. The CFA seems to have been thrown off balance by the lack of enthusiasm.

Although the organization was launched months ago in a Washington consumer assembly, it has yet to elect officers of vote on policy.

Nor is CFA the only body puzzled by the apathetic consumer. Rep. Florence P. Dwyer, ranking member of the House Consumer Affairs subcommittee, reports that in spite of all the publicity given the so-called "Truth-in-lending" bill considered by her subcommittee, she received not one letter about it.

Other lawmakers who have made headlines pushing consumer causes report equally poor returns in the mailbag.

Perhaps one of the factors contributing to the lack of response by the consumer to appeals in his behalf is that most of the voices clamoring for consumer protection, including the CFA, are looking in the direction of federal legislation. Some of them want federal supervision in just about every industry to see that the consumer gets his money's worth.

It has been the experience of most consumers that whenever someone succeeds in passing more restrictive legislation affecting a consumable commodity, it almost immediately costs the consumer something. It most frequently is a higher price tag, but sometimes the new legislation decreases competition in the marketplace, as in the case of "standard" size containers.

It might be that the consumer is tired of having good-intentioned relatives looking after his welfare. He finds it is cheaper if he does it himself.

EYESORE OF THE WEEK

THESE dilapidated shacks are Mrs. W. B.'s favorite "eyesores," the Pacifica housewife writes. Located in Pacific Manor, buildings such as these give any neighborhood a "rundown" appearance and affect not only eyes, but pocketbooks as well, as most homeowners will tell you. This particular area also is strewn with paper, broken bottles and similar junk. The Post's "Eyesore of the Week" award goes to the owner(s) of these structures.

He Tips Topper

A TIP OF OUR TOPPER to those 55 Daly City citizens who volunteered many hours coming up with suggestions to be incorporated in the General Plan, now being drawn up by the firm of Livingston and Blayney. These good people DID NOT receive one nickle for their time or efforts. And while much of the things brought up in their reports have already been discussed before, it reflects the feelings and ideas of a cross-section of the community. There should be more civic-minded citizens like them in this day and age.

☆ ☆ ☆

AND SPEAKING OF the General Plan — In order for a city (like Daly City) to qualify for certain government funds they are required to contract with an "outside" planner. Don't ask us why. We're afraid of what our answer would be! The city pays only a small portion ($28,000 in D.C.) of the overall charge.

☆ ☆ ☆

WE STAND CORRECTED — A D.C. official has angrily informed us of three facts: (1) the General Plan is costing taxpayers $105,000 NOT $110,000 as reported in this newspaper; (2) City Planners are necessary to "coordinate" and "research" ordinances, etc. and (3) the State Planning Act requires the establishment of a Planning Commission in a city. But the question remains: Are they both necessary in cities under 100,000 population? We certainly don't think we'll get an unbiased answer from staff on the subject. Seems they always want more space, not less.

☆ ☆ ☆

JAMES BOND DEPT. — We wanted to talk to a member of the Moscow Circus touring the area . . . sooo we finally got to talk to a Nina somethingorother and invited her to lunch. Nina is the "official" interpreter for the circus. Next day Nina informed us we may talk to the "head" of the circus through her because he doesn't speak English. Fine! The following day it was suggested a "star" be invited to the luncheon so we can ask him questions. We finally pulled the plug when it was further suggested an "apprentice interpreter" be asked along to "watch how an interview is conducted." Talk about your CIA.

YOU BETTER WATCH OUT 'cause daytime burglaries are on the upswing in the North County. In Daly City, Police Chief R. A. Petrocchi informs us last year at this time there were 393 burglaries. So far this year the figure is 441. And what is really startling is the tremendous increase in day time thefts — those between 8 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

To stop these costly (to you) burglaries, chief Petrocchi is asking the cooperation of all citizens. If you see a suspicious person(s) in your neighborhood (regardless of what time it is) write down as much information as you can about the suspect (sex, type car, approximate height, etc.) and immediately call police.

A "checklist" of what to do will be mailed out with the next water bills, Petrocchi said.

Here's what a homeowner can do to PREVENT his own home from being burglarized: Leave a light burning, have someone (a neighbor) pick up newspapers and other deliveries, and let the police know if you are going away for an extended period of time. Caution: DO NOT TRY TO APPREHEND A BURGLAR YOURSELF. Call the police with as much information as you can. If the suspicious person is wearing a red suit and keeps chuckling . . . forget it!

☆ ☆ ☆

QUESTION AND ANSWER SECTION: Wasn't that a rip-snorting, Hell-bent for leather campaign between Archibald and McCloskey. By the way, was there an election? — How cum the City of Daly City cleaned up their section of the lots across from the Civic Center, but the SCHOOL DISTRICT hasn't cleaned up their section? It still looks like a dump site. And Heaven knows we've enough of them around. — Hours after we publish a story on shoplifting in the county, a woman walked out of a fashionable Westlake Shopping Center store with a fur-trimmed coat. The police have a good idea who she is and are right after her. — Since when is a ten-story building a "skyscraper?" Come, come South City let's not go overboard with the publicity. — Daly City night at International Joes was a big success. All the city's dignitaries, and then some, were there. Unfortunately, we didn't make the scene. Flu season victim. (and a dignitary we're not).

TOYS FOR TOTS is underway in Daly City. Buy a new, inexpensive toy, mail it or drop it off at the Daly City Colma Chamber of Commerce offices on Mission Street, or the Central Fire Station on Lake Merced Avenue and the Marines will see that some kid will have a Merry Christmas.

Last year more than 500 happy kids were playing with toys "Santa" brought them. It doesn't hurt to kick in a few dollars at this time of the year, especially when you see the good it does.

What REALLY hurts is the child who wakes up in the morning, runs to the tree in the living room — and there isn't anything!

You say there aren't any families that bad off, financially, in this day and age of super pay envelopes? You are so wrong. Ask Peter Markovich at the D.C. Chamber. He's got all the facts and figures.

Speaking Fashionably

Life is a bubble, a battle, a game.
Life is a dream, a medley, a play.
Life is a voyage, a fairy-tale, a gleam of light; between two eternities.

There are 504 definitions of life in Stevenson's Home Book of Verse. They range from the sour pronouncements of pessimists — "life is like the dregs of a cup of tea;" "Life is one dem'd horrid grind!" — to the sweet words of Emerson, "life is an ecstacy" and those of Hans Christian Anderson, "every man's life is a fairy-tale written by God's fingers."

Lately it has become fashionable to speak of the good life as something that no one can define although many have tried.

THE LATEST ATTEMPT to set out some guidelines for attaining the good life may be found in a book of biography by a professor emeritus George R. Stewart, who has taught English to generations of students at the University of California.

In the epilogue to his book "Good Lives," Professor Stewart lists the guidelines as "a sense of goal with full commitment, with acceptance of responsibility, with courage, with long time fulfillment, and with a final and resultant integration of spirit."

With these in mind the professor presents six men who are "concrete examples of people who have attained the good life. The six are William the Marshall, whose life was spent in the service of three English kings; Joab Ben Zeruiah, captain of the hosts of Israel under King David; Francisco Eduardo de Tresguerras, the Mexican painter and architect; Henry the Navigator, King of Portugal; Heinrich Schlemann, an archaeologist, and California's own John Bidwell.

☆ ☆ ☆

WILLIAM THE MARSHALL grew to maturity during the chaos that followed a battle for the throne of England between Matilda, daughter of Henry I and Stephen who was supported by the barons of England and Normandy. His career spanned the subsequent reigns of Henry II, Richard the Lion Hearted, and bad King John.

Joab passed through the upheavals of the reign of King Saul and the great era of King David, but his sense of justice led him to support David's oldest living son rather than Solomon. This led to his disgrace and his murder.

When Heinrich Schlemann was a boy he resolved to become an archaeologist and unearth ancient Troy — But poor health and family misfortunes forced him into a business career. In his spare time he learned 13 languages. During the Crimean War his company sent him to Russia to be their agent.

He became wealthy, retired from business and at last became an archaeologist. Before he died he had excavated Troy as he had planned.

John Bidwell lost his land in Missouri to a claim jumper, so he came to California to work at Sutter's Fort. While other men looked for gold, he became the most noted agriculturist in the state, and the most noted exponent of law and order in the gold rush area.

HENRY THE NAVIGATOR ruled during a period of selfish kings. While the other monarchs spoke of their divine rights, he supplemented his scholars and generally upgraded his people. While other kings worried about the succession of their lines, he sent his captains to establish new trade lines to Africa and the Orient.

Francisco Eduardo Tresguerras overcame social limitations and misfortunes to achieve a career he had chosen for himself. Twice he faced the depths of tragedy. He found himself forced to renounce much that most men hold dear, yet he found the good life.

In the lives of all six of these men, Professor Stewart finds such qualities as a will to go forward in spite of difficulties, a sense of humor, an ambition to achieve a single end. They were men of responsibility and "in modern jargon they were mature."

They were successful men who escaped smugness and attained balance. They were men, says Professor Stewart who believed that the "Kingdom of God is within you," and seem to have achieved the Kingdom.

The Mantels will be dedicated by Rabbi Solomon A. Shore.

Overcrossing Bids Asked

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan announced last week that bids are now open for construction of the Junipero Serra-Clay Street Pedestrian Overcrossing in South San Francisco.

"Provided that bids are low enough, the construction will begin the first week of January," Ryan said. "After the many delays and long hours spent to get this desperately needed overcrossing built, this is the best Christmas present I have probably ever received . . . It may be that the residents and parents who live in that area feel the same sense of relief that I feel."

The project is a joint venture with the State contributing $35,000, the City of South San Francisco $35,000, and the school district $5,000, according to the California Division of Highways.

JAMES TWEEDIE and Marilyn Mattson place Christmas wreath on pulpit of Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 87th Street, Daly City, as high school youth helped decorate sanctuary for Christmas season services. One of special events of season will be Sunday's 7 p.m. Sunday school pageant, co-ordinated by Mrs. Beverly Singer.

Youth's Beating for 'Revenge'

A young San Brunan was viciously beaten last Tuesday with a bumper jack, a tire iron, and a wooden club, apparently as some kind of revenge, police suspect.

Daniel James Baeza, 18, son of Mrs. Mildred Baeza, 240 Sannta Inez Avenue, San Bruno, was released from Peninsula hospital after emergency room treatment of a broken nose, multiple facial lacerations, and multiple contusions and abrasions.

Police Officer Tom Stewart reported he was called to the Jack in the Box drive-in, 1700 El Camino Real, at 10:40 p.m. Passersby said a young man had been beaten and was lying face down on the drive-in parking lot, he said.

At the scene, Stewart found Baeza lying on the pavement, and his mother standing nearby. She called for him to catch the three young men who had beaten her son, and who were escaping in a green Volkswagen, he said, but the escape car had disappeared.

Police said they found the assault tools at the scene, and are seeking the identity of the assailants.

Officers said they were unable to establish a definite motive for the beating, but had heard reports that a disagreement had developed elsewhere, and that Baeza was followed to the Jack in the Box and attacked when he stepped from his car.
